

DOTS AND DASHEES.

Dickery, Dickory, Dock,
The sales girl looked at the clock,
The habit grew,
A "Can" she drew,
Dickory, Dickory, Dock.

Eva Bodkin--I'm just crazy about that fellow. He wears the stunningest clothes.
Martha Burke -- That's what I call a "Suit Case".

Edna Bushfield-- "Gee, but that sun's hot on my neck!"
Melba Murphy---- "I thought I smelled rubber burning".

Pat was drowned yesterday.
Couldn't he swim?
Sure, but he was a Union man; he swam eight hours and quit.

Stella Malones-- Clarence and I had a fight last night.
Celia Bray----- What did you tell him?
Stella M. ----- I told him I did not want to see him.
Celia B. ----- What did he do?
Stella M. ----- He turned out the light.

Customer (at toilet goods counter) I want some Talcum Powder.
Melba Murphy ---- "Mennen's"?
Customer ----- "No. Wimmen's."

Mrs. Dusenberry (At grocery store) "Is this cream good"?
Clerk----- It ought to be, I whipped it this morning".

Eva Long (In the studio) Photographer, I don't want a large picture.
Photographer----- "All right, keep your mouth shut then".

First girl. Have you ever noticed Mr. Collin's hands?
Second girl. No. Why?
First girl. Awfully soft; sleeps with his gloves on.
Second girl. Does he sleep in a hat too?

He----- What would you do if I should kiss you?
Mildred Davis -- I'd slap your face.
He----- Then I won't.
Mildred D. "You Coward".

Marie Rader-- Mr. Finnesey, will you please put up the transom.
it's awfully cold.
Mr. Finnesey--Aw, just wrap yourself in thought.
